

FACULTY ANNOUNCEMENT

---

11 March 2005

Law School mourns the loss of Professor Geoffrey Wilson Bartholomew

The Law School was saddened to learn of the passing-away of Professor Geoffrey Wilson Bartholomew on Thursday, 10 March 2005.

Professor Bartholomew taught at the Faculty from 1960 to 1976, and was Dean of the Faculty from 1966 to 1968.

Prof Bartholomew was a great academic, and did much in the building of the NUS Law School.

Prof Tan Keng Feng '71, first a student and then a colleague of Prof Bartholomew, said, "I look back as a student and an academic and I learnt a lot from Geoffrey Bartholomew as a person and an academic. He was in many ways an inspiration to us as a man of law, literature and independence of mind; who was totally dedicated to his work, personable, witty, chatty and who always had time for his friends and students."

Prof Bartholomew will be long remembered and greatly missed.

Click here to read Prof Bartholomew's reflections on his time as Dean, published in "Change and Continuity: 40 Years of the Law Faculty".