The NUS Faculty of Law is pleased to invite applications for the position of Teaching Fellow. This is a new part-time appointment for recent law school graduates within the first five (5) years of graduation who are interested in considering an academic career, whether at NUS or elsewhere.

Applications are now open for the academic year 2012/2013 beginning in August 2012. The appointment is for one year in the first instance and may be extended for a further year. Only six (6) Teaching Fellows will be appointed each academic year.

Benefits

Successful applicants will have the following privileges:

1. Applicants will be appointed to the part-time position of Teaching Fellow at NUS for one year, with a fixed remuneration of S$1000 per month.

2. Teaching Fellows will be supported by full NUS library privileges.

3. Teaching Fellows may be given the opportunity to attend and present their research in the NUS Faculty of Law’s seminar programmes.

4. Teaching Fellows will teach at least one course (about three to four hours per week) at the NUS Law school each academic year under the mentorship and guidance of an experienced Faculty member.

Selection Criteria

Applicants are expected to have performed exceptionally well in their legal studies and will generally have a First Class Honours degree or its equivalent.

Application Procedure

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, together with a curriculum vitae and transcripts of their results. Applications close on 31 December 2011. The letter of interest should state up to 3 subjects the applicant is interested in teaching, in order of priority.

Enquiries should be directed to Ms Lee Su Fern, Administrative Manager (Human Resources & Finance), National University of Singapore, 469G Bukit Timah Road, Singapore 259776. Email: lawlsfj@nus.edu.sg.
