01 February 2012

NUS Law joins as USP’s 7th Partner

NUS Law joins University Scholars Programme’s as its 7th partner faculty. This new partnership aims to add a deeper interdisciplinary dimension to classroom and curricular experiences, thus further enhancing intellectual inquiry beyond disciplinary boundaries. NUS Law is dedicated to building a community and creating an environment that facilitates critical thinking and reflection on fundamental legal issues affecting societies. Both University Scholars Programme (USP) and NUS Law believe in the importance of offering students wide and diverse opportunities for intellectual engagement, so that they can come to interact with the modern, globalized world in thoughtful and critical ways.

"NUS Law offers a rigorous legal training, but we also teach personal and professional skills that enable our graduates to operate across boundaries. This includes national boundaries, but also disciplinary boundaries. The partnership with USP is a natural extension of that commitment and offers selected students even greater freedom to explore across disciplines and be part of this open and dynamic learning community." Simon Chesterman, Dean, NUS Law