ASLI Welcomes National Law University and Judicial Academy, Assam

ASLI is pleased to announce the addition of National Law University and Judicial Academy, Assam as a new Member Institution.

The National Law University and Judicial Academy Assam is an autonomous Law School, established by the Government of Assam recently. It is one of the members of the family of fourteen National Law Schools and Universities set up in the country. The university started functioning in the year 2011.

With the inclusion of National Law University and Judicial Academy, the number of Member institution now stands at 35.