SPEAKER

Lee Kiat Seng
Head of Compliance, Lazada Group

KIAT SENG LEE is currently the Head of Compliance for the Lazada Group. He is based in the Group headquarters in Singapore. He and his team cover Lazada’s operations, on both the platform and the logistics side in 7 countries. Prior to this role, he was most recently the Senior Compliance Officer, Asia, in Fujitsu. Based in the Asia Region Office in Singapore, having charge of Fujitsu’s operations in Asia, including China. Kiat Seng had also previously fulfilled the roles of Interim Risk & Compliance Counsel, Asia, for DTZ and Regional Counsel, Legal & Compliance, Asia Pacific & Middle East for DaVita. In all of these roles, Kiat Seng had charge of the compliance program and regulatory affairs of the company in question. Before Kiat Seng took up the in-house roles above, he was a partner of Baker & McKenzie, based in Singapore. He was a member of the Firm’s Asia Pacific Restructuring & Insolvency Steering Committee, the Asia Pacific Compliance Task Force as well as the Asia Pacific Dispute Resolution Steering Committee. He was heavily involved in the dispute resolution, compliance, insurance/reinsurance and restructuring & insolvency practices at both the Singapore office as well as across the Asia Pacific region. Kiat Seng has advised and represented clients in Singapore, Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, South Korea, USA, UK, Italy, Japan, the Peoples’ Republic of China, the Republic of China, Laos, India, Germany, Vietnam and other countries in the region. Kiat Seng was a professor at the Law School at the National University of Singapore for just over 25 years: first as a full time academic and then as an adjunct associate professor. He is extensively published in both criminal law and insurance/reinsurance law.
