

Lunchtime Talk: In-House Counsel at an Oil & Gas Major

Brief Synopsis: Kelly Mahood manages the legal function of BP supporting its trading and downstream businesses across Asia. He will talk about his career journey, recent developments within the Oil & Gas industry and the skills and knowledge from university and private practice that he has had to develop for his current role. He will also discuss opportunities available to NUS law students to work in-house through BP's legal internship programme in Singapore and the career journeys of some of the Singaporean lawyers working at BP.

Event Details

|                      |   |
|----------------------|---|
| Date:         | 24 August 2018, Friday  |
| Time:         | 1230H to 1400H (Please do not be late)Lunch will be provided.   |
| Venue:        | Blk B, 4 th Level, Seminar Room 4-4National University of Singapore, Faculty of Law |
| Registration: | https://tinyurl.com/y8yjkchu                                   |

SPEAKER*Kelly Mahood
Managing Counsel, BP Singapore

Kelly Mahood is the Managing Counsel for BP's Supply and Trading business in the Eastern Hemisphere and its Downstream business in Asia. Based in Singapore, Kelly is responsible for a team of 24 lawyers across Asia providing advice on many different areas of law, including corporate, commercial, energy and regulatory matters.

Kelly worked in private practice in New Zealand for four years, and then spent six years as a corporate lawyer advising on international transactions at Linklaters in London before joining the Mergers & Acquisitions legal team in BP in London. He moved to Singapore in 2013.