Title of Talk: Reflections on a Singaporean NewLaw Law Firm

Brief Synopsis: NewLaw and BigLaw are terms which were first used in America to describe two broad categories of law firms and legal services providers. What is NewLaw? What is BigLaw? What are the differences and similarities between the two? What types of NewLaw law firms are there and how do they differ? How might NewLaw be better for clients or lawyers – how might it be worse? Are there particular characteristics about Singapore that might play in favour or against the growth of NewLaw law firms in Singapore? What opportunities are there for new lawyers in NewLaw law firms.
