Andrew Simester

*Dean, National University of Singapore,
Faculty of Law*

*Amaladass Professor of Criminal Justice
Co-Director, Centre for Legal Theory*

Dear Students,

Welcome to the 2025 Law Careers Fair! This is a very special event, staged for perhaps the last time ever at the Bukit Timah campus. I'm very grateful to the 45th Law Club for once again hosting this year's event, together with the Centre for Future-ready Graduates@Law. Special thanks go to the Law Club Internal Affairs Directorate for all their hard work in organising the Fair. We have a terrific programme of speakers and talks across the next few weeks, with around 60 firms representing all walks of legal life in Singapore.

Law is one of the few academic degrees that is also vocational, and it is natural for our graduates to think of making a career in professional practice. Of course, ultimately there are many kinds of careers in law. Lawyers are to be found working not only in professional law firms but also in government, in sole practices, in business, and beyond. You may end up specialising in anything from corporate to charitable or criminal work, or even with a general practice that doesn't specialise at all. Maybe you will one day become a professor! Most of our graduates, however, start their professional lives in public or private practice. For that reason, we are excited to be hosting such an impressive array of exhibitors, and very grateful for their participation. Between them, they offer a great chance to explore opportunities for your life in law after NUS.

I strongly encourage you to take advantage of that chance, and to learn about the many career options available to you. Don't miss the various Seminar Talks and Fireside Chats, they too are an opportunity to garner tips and tricks for your own presentations. So... good luck, and get networking!

With best wishes,
Andrew Simester

Hear from our Trainees & Interns

My practice training period at CNPLaw was holistic and multi-faceted. I was able to experience the intensity of working on a major acquisition deal, as well as assisting our clients in navigating the fledgling crypto regulatory environment in Singapore. As trainees, we had the opportunity to be supervised by experienced mentors and work alongside friendly colleagues who made our practice training period a highly enjoyable one.

Practice Trainee(Y2022)- Eng A

I had a great time doing my practice training contract at CNPLaw. The training programme is well structured and it adheres closely with the SILE's guidelines. I was also able to take on active roles in matters.

Practice Trainee(Y2022)-Lim W.L

This is my first internship, and I was attached to the Family Law Practice Group for six weeks. My partner was really patient with me and taught me a lot, and she also gave me some great advice about law school. It was thrilling helping out with ongoing cases. Everyone here is also very kind, and the working environment is friendly, it's a great place!
