Introduction

The idea of a relational contract has been developed in research in sociology, economics and law, and has now been referred to in several judicial decisions in the United Kingdom (as well as elsewhere in the common law world). But what does the idea of a relational contract mean and what are its implications? If the notion of relational contract applies to a particular type of contract (such as employment or a franchise) or a type of contractual relationship (such as a long-term relationship), does it have particular legal implications for those transactions, such as an expansion of mandatory duties of disclosure or obligations to perform in good faith?

Speaker

Professor Hugh Collins

Registration

(Closing date: 14 August 2015 or until seats last)

Terms and Conditions

- Registration for the event may be made:
  a) online at www.sal.org.sg with a Visa or Master card
  b) online through a firm’s organisation’s Online Purchase Co-ordinator (OPC)
- Any cancellation must be made in writing before the closing date.
- A refund will be given subject to an administrative fee of $21.40 (inclusive of GST). There will be no refund for any cancellation after the closing date (14 August 2015).
- For enquiries, please call Tel: (65) 6332 4388 or email les@sal.org.sg. SAL’s registration terms and conditions apply. See http://www.sal.org.sg/RegistrationTermsNConditions.aspx for more details.

Fees

(inclusive of 7% GST, tea breaks and materials, if any)

- SAL Members $64.20
- Non-Members $96.30
- Full-time Students# $21.40

Student registrations can only be made by writing to les@sal.org.sg. Please include a copy of a valid matriculation card.

Programme

4.00 pm Registration & Tea
4.30 pm Lecture by Prof Hugh Collins
5.30 pm Q&A
6.00 pm End of Session