CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION

The Magna Carta’s Journey to Singapore: History and the Rule of Law

DATE: 9 NOVEMBER 2015, MONDAY, 6:00PM TO 7:30PM,
VENUE: MOOT COURT, NEXT TO THE SUMMIT CAFETERIA, NUS FACULTY OF LAW

ABOUT THE PANELLISTS

Dr Kevin YL Tan LLB (Hons) (NUS); LLM, JSD (Yale) is a leading expert on the legal history and constitutional law of Singapore. He is currently Adjunct Professor at the Faculty of Law, National University of Singapore as well as at the S Rajaratnam School of International Studies, Nanyang Technological University. Kevin has written and edited over 30 books and numerous articles on the law, history and politics of Singapore and has curated many significant historical exhibitions. He is the Curator for the Singapore leg of the Magna Carta world tour exhibition.

Professor Simon Chesterman is Dean of the National University of Singapore Faculty of Law. He is also Editor of the Asian Journal of International Law and Secretary-General of the Asian Society of International Law. His teaching experience includes periods at the Universities of Melbourne, Oxford, Southampton, Columbia, and Sciences Po. From 2006-2011, he was Global Professor and Director of the New York University School of Law Singapore Programme. Prior to joining NYU, he was a Senior Associate at the International Peace Academy and Director of UN Relations at the International Crisis Group in New York. He has previously worked for the UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs in Yugoslavia and interned at the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda. Professor Chesterman is a recognized authority on international law and author or editor of fourteen books including One Nation Under Surveillance (OUP, 2011) and Law and Practice of the United Nations (with Thomas M. Franck and David M. Malone, OUP, 2008).

Dr Jack Tsen-Ta Lee is an assistant professor at the School of Law, Singapore Management University, where he teaches and researches constitutional and administrative law, and media law, while maintaining an interest in heritage law. He graduated with an LLB (Hons) from the National University of Singapore, and an LLM from University College London in 2003 which he completed on a British Chevening Scholarship. In 2012, he was conferred a PhD in Law by the University of Birmingham, which was funded by a teaching assistantship. He won the School of Law’s Most Promising Teacher Award for 2010–2011.