Workshop

“An Introduction to the Basics of Indonesian Company Law”

3 Online Sessions by Universitas Gadjah Mada Law Students
7 September, 14 September & 21 September (Saturday)
10.00 AM - 12.00 PM (SGT)
Via Zoom

Students of Universitas Gadjah Mada will be organising a workshop titled “An Introduction to the Basics of Indonesian Company Law” for Singapore students. The workshop features three sessions, over three weeks, each focusing on a specific aspect of Indonesian company law.

The first session will introduce the students to Indonesia’s legal system, different types of limited liability companies in the jurisdiction, and the unique developments in piercing the corporate veil to establish shareholders' liability. The second session will focus on Indonesia’s two-tier board system, the duties of the board of directors and the board of commissioners, and lastly, shareholder’s legal protection. The final session will cover the dissolution of companies as well as corporate bankruptcy under Indonesian law.

All Singapore law and tertiary students are welcome to join us.
