

OVERSIGHT OF SYSTEMICALLY RELEVANT INSURANCE PRACTICES WITHIN THE EU: THE ROLE OF MACROPRUDENTIAL SUPERVISION

By Dr Miriam Goldby
Centre for Commercial Law Studies
Queen Mary University of London

DATE & TIME : 9 DECEMBER 2015, WEDNESDAY, 9.30AM TO 10.30AM (Registration starts 9.15am)

VENUE: BLK B CONFERENCE ROOM (LOCATED IN CBFL)

FACULTY OF LAW, NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF SINGAPORE (BUKIT TIMAH CAMPUS)

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

Dr Goldby and Ms Keller argue that in order to achieve the aims of macro-prudential supervision, it is insufficient to pay enhanced attention to insurance institutions designated as Global Systemically Important Insurers (GSIIs) and that systemic risks that may emanate from practices prevalent in the insurance sector, practices which increase interconnectedness and common exposures, need to be addressed. They argue that in view of the fact that these practices may give rise to the materialisation of systemic risk, even if the entities engaging in them remain solvent, they are more appropriately addressed by macro-rather than micro-prudential oversight. The purpose of this research is to assess the extent to which the European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB), a macro-prudential supervisory body set up in the wake of the recent crisis, is equipped to address such risks.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Dr Miriam Goldby is a Senior Lecturer in Shipping, Insurance and Commercial Law, Deputy Director of the Insurance Law Institute and convenor of the MA in Law by Research Programme at the Centre for Commercial Law Studies, QMUL. She joined CCLS in September 2012 as lecturer in Insurance and Commercial Law. Together with Dr Tina Lovedou, she designed and launched the Centre's LLM in International Shipping Law in 2013. She is currently Senior Lecturer in Shipping, Insurance and Commercial Law, Deputy Director of the Centre's Insurance Law Institute and Convenor of the MA by Research Programme. She lectures in the areas of International Shipping Law, Insurance Law and International Commercial Law, and her research interests are also focused in these fields. Since January 2014 she has also taught English Contract Law on the Centre's LLM in Paris programme.

Prior to joining CCLS, she conducted research as a Visiting Scholar at George Washington University in Washington DC, USA. Between September 2007 and December 2010 she held a lectureship post at the University of Surrey. She read for her PhD degree at University College London where she also held the post of teaching fellow between January 2004 and August 2007. She has written extensively on various areas of commercial and financial law. Her book, Electronic Documents in Maritime Trade: Law and Practice was published by OUP in 2013. She co-edited with Dr Andromachi Georgosouli the book Systemic Risk and the Future of Insurance Regulation published by Informa in 2015.

PROGRAMME

9.15am – 9.30am : Registration

9.30am – 10.15am : Presentation by Dr Miriam Goldby

10.15am – 10.30am : Q&A Session

10.30am : End of Seminar

REGISTRATION

There is no registration fee for this seminar, however seats are limited.

To register, please click here or scan:

Terms & Conditions:

1. Registration is accepted on a first-come, first-served basis, and subject to availability of seats.
2. To avoid delay in registration, please ensure that all registration details are clearly and accurately provided.
3. An Email notification will be sent to a valid email address upon receipt of registration.

About Centre for Banking & Finance Law

The Centre for Banking & Finance Law (CBFL) at the Faculty of Law, National University of Singapore, seeks to generate scholarship and promote thinking about the vibrancy, robustness and soundness of the banking sector, capital markets and other financial services. Through the research our scholars undertake and the events we organise, we seek to create and share knowledge, to engage stakeholders in an exchange of ideas, and to enhance the appreciation of legal and regulatory issues. We aim to bring greater theoretical and analytical clarity to these issues, to examine their policy impact, and to be a catalyst for ideas on how to improve banking and financial systems at the national, regional and global levels.