

Oxford Studies in Private Law Theory Workshop
National University of Singapore

Monday, August 4th 2025 to Tuesday, August 5th 2025

CALL FOR PAPERS

Oxford University Press invites submissions for Volume IV of Oxford Studies in Private Law Theory. This esteemed series showcases groundbreaking research and diverse perspectives in private law theory.

Accepted papers will be presented at the Oxford Studies in Private Law Theory Workshop 2025, hosted by the Centre for Legal Theory (CLT) and co-hosted by the Private Law Research Discussion Group (PLDG) and the EW Barker Centre for Law & Business (EWBCLB) at the National University of Singapore.

Key Details

- Editors: Paul Miller (Notre Dame), John Oberdiek (Rutgers)
- Scope: Contract, property, tort, fiduciary law, equity, unjust enrichment, remedies, and more.
- Word Count: Approximately 12,000 words (footnotes inclusive)
- Deadline: January 15, 2025
- Workshop: National University of Singapore (August 2025) - Travel and accommodation covered
- Open Access: Accepted papers are published open access thanks to the Notre Dame Program on Private Law
- Submission: Email oberdiek@rutgers.edu and paul.miller@nd.edu

Related Links:

<https://global.oup.com/academic/content/series/o/oxford-private-law-theory-osplt>