

APCEL AND YALE LAW SCHOOL PRESENT:

Climate Change Litigation in the Asia Pacific

Edited by Jolene LIN and Douglas A. KYSAR

VIRTUAL BOOK LAUNCH
WEDNESDAY 28 OCTOBER 2020
4.00PM TO 5.30PM (SGT)

In June 2018, Asia-Pacific Centre for Environmental Law (APCEL) and Yale Law School co-organized an international research workshop to critically examine the state of climate change litigation in the Asia Pacific. Climate Change Litigation in the Asia Pacific is the result of the 2018 workshop. Bringing legal academics and lawyers from the Global North and Global South together, the book provides rich insights into how litigation can galvanize climate action in countries including Pakistan, Indonesia, Malaysia and China. It provides in-depth case studies in selected jurisdictions in the Asia Pacific region, a dedicated section on climate change litigation in China, and includes contributions from both established and emerging scholars.

Many exciting developments have unfolded since 2018. At this book launch, four experts will share their insights on these developments in climate change litigation in the Asia Pacific with a particular focus on Australia, China, India and South Korea.

Jolene Lin
Director, Asia-Pacific
Centre for Environmental Law
(APCEL)

Douglas A. Kysar
Joseph M. Field '55
Professor of Law,
Yale Law School

To register, go to <https://bit.ly/3jBoFYL> or scan the QR code
Registration closes on Monday 26 October 2020, 12 noon (SGT)
Please email Nur Fazirah at rescle@nus.edu.sg for enquiries

Yale Law School

Speakers

Jacqueline Peel

Professor, Melbourne Law School

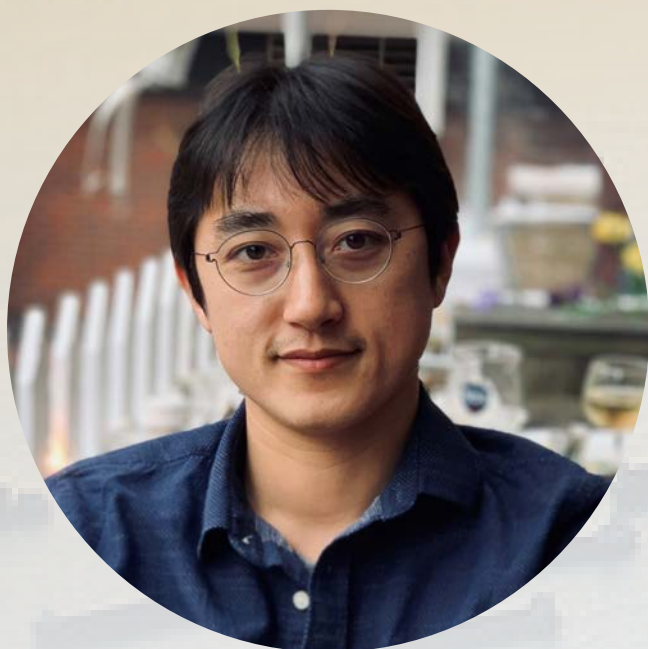

Professor Jacqueline Peel is a leading, internationally-recognised expert in the field of environmental and climate change law. Her scholarship on these topics encompasses international, transnational and national dimensions, as well as interdisciplinary aspects of the law/science relationship in the environmental field and risk regulation.

Arpitha Kodiveri

PhD researcher, European University Institute

Arpitha Kodiveri is a doctoral researcher and Hans Kelsen Fellow at the European University Institute. Her thesis examines the operationalization of the right to free, prior and informed consent under the Forest Rights Act, 2006 (FRA) of forest-dwelling communities in Odisha, India.

Sejong Youn

Director, Solutions for our Climate (SFOC)

Sejong Youn is an attorney admitted to the Korea Bar and serves as director of Solutions for Our Climate, leading the climate finance program and the climate litigation project. Prior to SFOC, he worked in the international arbitration group of Kim & Chang in Korea, specializing in disputes related to domestic and overseas power plants and energy infrastructure.

Zhao Yue

Associate Research Fellow, Sichuan University

Zhao Yue is an associate research fellow at Sichuan University, examining climate change litigation in China. Prior to this, she has held posts at the Centre for International Sustainable Development, and the Natural Resources Defense Council.