

APPLICATIONS FOR VISITING TEACHING APPOINTMENTS AY2025-26

We welcome applications for visitors to teach at NUS Law in Singapore, this time for our academic year 2025-26.

Teaching commitments

Courses are run in an “intensive” format. Each course comprises a total of 27 contact hours, to be taught in 3-hour seminars, 3 times per week for 3 weeks. Classes are generally held on weekdays and some may be held in the evening. As classes are conducted face-to-face, visitors must travel to Singapore and attend NUS’s Kent Ridge campus.

Visitors can choose from one of the following teaching periods:

- the last three weeks of August 2025 (11-29 August 2025).
- the first three weeks of September 2025 (1–19 September 2025).
- the last three weeks of January 2026 (12-30 January 2026).
- the first three weeks of February 2026 (2-20 February 2026).

We expect visitors to be available to teach over the whole of the chosen teaching period. (You may view our full academic calendar here.)

Honorarium

An all-inclusive honorarium of about SGD 20,000 will be provided, out of which visitors will cover their own airfare and accommodation expenses.

Other information

Proposed courses should not duplicate or overlap significantly with other courses offered at NUS Law in the same year. For an indication of our offerings, see the list of courses in AY2023-24 here.

Visitors are expected to submit all reading materials (e.g. cases and articles) in electronic format (either .doc or .pdf format) for uploading to the intranet and dissemination to students. No printed materials will be distributed to students. Students are also not expected to purchase any books for these intensive courses.

How to apply

Please send an email to Professor Christian Witting, Vice Dean (Academic Affairs) (lawcwit@nus.edu.sg) by 1 August 2024. Include in your email your course proposal and preferred teaching periods (nominating more than one period is helpful). Your course proposal should clearly detail learning outcomes and content that will be covered in each seminar.

The Faculty Curriculum Committee will make a decision around November 2024.
