NUS Law

The National University of Singapore Faculty of Law (NUS Law) is Asia's leading law school. Staffed by an outstanding permanent faculty diverse in origin and qualifications, NUS Law is dedicated to building a vibrant community and creating an environment that facilitates critical thinking and reflection on the fundamental legal issues confronting our interconnected world. Located in Singapore, which for more than a century has been a commercial hub at the crossroads of Asia, NUS Law is very much Asia's Global Law School.

Since 1957, the school's curriculum has been infused with perspectives from other jurisdictions and disciplines. This tradition has accelerated in recent years, providing a legal education that is comparative, international and multidisciplinary. NUS Law hosts many visiting faculty and students from every continent, offering a lively, cosmopolitan atmosphere both inside and outside the classroom. The strength of the NUS Law curriculum lies in the broad and diverse range of subjects it offers. In addition to a rigorous core curriculum, students can choose from more than a hundred electives in areas such as Asian legal studies, international and comparative law, commercial law, IP and technology law, law and society, legal theory, maritime law, and public and private international law.

Dean's Message

"Think about how your chosen course of study will equip you for wherever your life may eventually lead."

What to study, and where to study it? These are two of the more important decisions you will make across your life. The choices of degree and university may seem daunting. However, as you contemplate your course of study, I urge you to think broadly. Rather than thinking about it as buying a ticket to a career, think about how your chosen course of study will equip you for wherever your life may eventually lead.

For many, the destination lies in practice. NUS Law graduates occupy the highest legal offices in the land: they include the Chief Justice, the Attorney-General, and senior practitioners in all areas of law. Our alumni include partners in top international firms in New York and London, Hong Kong and Shanghai.

For others, life may lead them beyond the law. Some of our graduates assume public office, like former President Halimah Yacob and Law Minister Edwin Tong. Others join academia or represent Singapore on the international stage, like former Dean and Ambassador-at-Large Tommy Koh (who did both). Still others use their legal training to start new ventures in the corporate world, like Tan Min-Liang, CEO of gaming giant Razer, or apply their skills with language as playwrights or actors, like Eleanor Wong—who is the Associate Provost (Special Projects) at NUS Law—and Ivan Heng.

But one thing you should consider in your decision is the very experience of journeying on that path. The problem-solving and argumentation skills required to be a successful lawyer are also life skills, skills that will stand you in good stead wherever your journey takes you. NUS Law offers rigorous legal training, but we also teach personal and professional skills that enable our graduates to operate across boundaries. That includes national boundaries, through the chance to spend a semester or even your entire third year at law schools in some twenty countries, or your fourth year earning a Master of Laws degree from New York University, King's College London, or other leading institutions. We also cross disciplinary boundaries: you may take subjects outside law from across the University—in some cases leading to a second degree. Law is a versatile degree. Our graduates are to be found working not only in professional law firms but also in government, in commerce, in charities and beyond.

Your journey will also be interactive. At NUS Law, you will not merely be a student but a participant. Our professors expect you to challenge them, to share new ideas and to debate different perspectives. Many legal problems do not have solutions that you can look up in a statute or even a textbook. As such, they present an opportunity to persuade the professor, or the court, that your answer is better even when there are plausible alternatives. Law, in other words, is not just about the answers. It is about how you get to them. We don't aim, then, to produce "lawyers". We aim to produce leaders who can be successful in whatever path they choose.

You have some important decisions to make. Whatever your choices, we hope that they will be right for you.

Asia's Global Law School

NUS Law is Asia's Global Law School—a place where law is studied not just as a set of rules, but as a dynamic, evolving field driven by people, ideas and the challenges of a changing world. Rooted in Asia and connected globally, the Faculty brings together leading researchers, practitioners and students in a vibrant, collaborative learning community.

The NUS Law Legacy

NUS Law's story began in 1956, when the Department of Law was established at the then University of Malaya. A year later, the first cohort of law students arrived, beginning a tradition of legal education that would shape Singapore's legal landscape.

In 1959, the department became a Faculty under its founding Dean, the late Professor Lionel Astor ("Lee") Sheridan, whose vision laid the foundations for academic rigour and intellectual curiosity that continue to define NUS Law today.

The pioneer class graduated in 1961, many of whom would go on to leave a lasting impact on Singapore's legal and public institutions, including Professor Tommy Koh (Ambassador-at-Large and former Dean), former Chief Justice Chan Sek Keong, the late former Dean Thio Su Mien and Emeritus Professor Koh Kheng Lian—names that still resonate within the law school and beyond.

The progress of the law school has evolved alongside the growth of Singapore. In 1962, the University of Singapore was formed as an autonomous national university, and in 1980 it merged with Nanyang University to become the National University of Singapore. As part of the modern NUS, NUS Law has continued to educate generations of lawyers, advance the law and prepare graduates to serve society in Singapore, across Asia and around the world.

Today, every student who joins NUS Law becomes part of this continuing story—building on the legacy of those who came before and shaping the future of law.

"Our ambition is to continue to be the best law school in Asia and one of the best in the world. This is where civilisations of the world meet and co-mingle. We offer faculty and students a unique multi-cultural milieu for study, research and mutual learning."

Professor Tommy Koh
Class of 1961
Ambassador-at-Large
Former Dean of NUS Law

"NUS Law provides students with what, for many, will be the only time in their careers during which they can really immerse themselves in new subject areas, doctrines and ways of thinking. I urge all students to use their time in the way that the very best students inevitably do—exploring the law in its many dimensions and continually broadening their knowledge and skills. Learning the law should be a real adventure!"

Professor Christian Witting
Vice-Dean (Academic Affairs and Undergraduate Studies)

Why NUS Law?

An NUS Law degree opens doors. We offer more than a legal education. We provide a platform to engage deeply with the law, explore your interests and shape the future you envision.

Student Life

Law Club

Law Club

The NUS Students' Law Club (Law Club) is a constituent club of the NUS Students' Union (NUSSU) and is made up of Law undergraduates. The Law Club Management Committee and its subsidiary clubs organise events throughout the year. These range from the Law Careers Fair to Open Day, Block B party and other social events on campus.

Law Sub-Clubs

Collaborative Dispute Resolution Club

The Collaborative Dispute Resolution Club (CDRC) aims to promote alternative dispute resolution (ADR) skills amongst students, such as through mediation and negotiation. CDRC also represents NUS at various international ADR competitions, where CDRC teams have consistently won multiple awards. The club's strong culture of knowledge-sharing ensures that every generation learns from the best.

Justified

Justified is a student sub-club that chronicles happenings around the school and beyond on its website. Besides event coverage, it also covers an array of other interesting stories, ranging from food reviews and lifestyle articles to creative pieces written by students.

Law Students' International Relations Committee

The NUS Law Students' International Relations Committee (LSIRC) engages international students through events and activities that introduce our foreign friends to Singapore and help them integrate into the school community. LSIRC also plans internal school events, such as panel discussions on international law (e.g. Practice Beyond Borders, Careers in International Law), and welfare parties. LSIRC is a local chapter of the Asian Law Students' Association (ALSA) Singapore which organises cross-border bonding activities and legal conferences.

Mooting & Debating Club

The Mooting & Debating Club (MDC) promotes oratorical skills and the passion for mooting, debating and advocacy among Law students.

The MDC is responsible for working with leading law firms to organise various local moot competitions, such as the B.A. Mallal Moot, the Advocacy Cup, the WongPartnership International Commercial Arbitration Moot, TSMP Moot & Mingle and the CMS IP Moot. It also hosts a series of sessions for members to engage in informal debates and discussions.

The MDC also focuses on nurturing each new generation of mooters through its robust training and mentorship programme, affording aspiring mooters support for crucial advocacy skills. The MDC's flagship Young Mooters Programme provides students with invaluable opportunities to develop further and cut their teeth on mooting (on a not-for-academic-credit basis) at international competitions.

NUS Criminal Justice Club

'In Truth and Justice' is the guiding motto of the Criminal Justice Club (CJC). The CJC's mission is to instil in its members a passion for criminal law, with a particular focus on pro bono criminal practice and fostering engagement across multiple disciplines. The club facilitates collaboration and internships with key institutions, including the Criminal Legal Aid Scheme (CLAS) Fellowship, Pro Bono SG, the Public Defender's Office and the Attorney-General's Chambers. It also offers workshops and dialogues with distinguished guests, providing opportunities for members to engage with contemporary issues in criminal law.

In pursuit of these goals, CJC organises a few flagship projects a year: CJC Forensics, The Recourse Initiative, Military Justice Project and CJC-CLAS Initiative.

NUS Pro Bono Group

NUS PRO BONO GROUP
To Inform. To Involve. To Inspire.

The NUS Pro Bono Group (PBG) is a student-run organisation dedicated to the promotion of pro bono service among Law students. PBG aims to promote access to justice through its various projects, ranging from legal clinic attachments to court assistance (with the State Courts and Syariah Courts). Furthermore, PBG initiates community outreach programmes, working with various entities such as the Ministry of Manpower and the Financial Industry Disputes Resolution Centre, to assist different beneficiaries.

Apart from its 10 projects, PBG also organises its annual flagship event—Pro Bono Awareness Week—to expose the law school population to the pro bono culture in NUS Law and, more widely, in Singapore. In addition to local efforts, PBG's impact extends overseas. One example is our long-standing partnership with Thammasat University for "Thai-Ed with Love", where NUS Law students have the rare opportunity to learn more about pro bono culture in Thailand and to engage in pro bono work there.

Singapore Law Review

SLR
Singapore Law Review

The Singapore Law Review (SLR) is Asia's oldest student-run legal publication, managed exclusively by the students of the National University of Singapore, Faculty of Law. Founded in 1959, the SLR provides a platform for legal scholarship and aims to raise awareness of current legal issues; promote critical legal thinking, writing, and discussion amongst students, academics and members of the legal fraternity; and empower the SLR members to hone their own editing and writing skills.

The SLR publishes an annual journal which features articles written by Justices of the Supreme Court, eminent scholars, legal practitioners, and law students from Singapore and abroad. The SLR also manages an online legal newsletter, Juris Illuminae. Beyond these publications, the SLR organises an annual lecture featuring legal luminaries on topics of their specialisation or interest.

"NUS Law has been as much about the community as it has been about the law. I am honoured to serve as President of NUS Law Club and Vice-Chairperson of the Freshmen Orientation Central Committee. Through initiatives such as Yay-to-Yale, NUS Law Careers Fair and Free Food Days, I have witnessed how student-led efforts can bring people together and meaningfully shape the law school experience. From welcoming new students to fostering connection and navigating uncertainty during our transition from the Bukit Timah campus to Kent Ridge, these experiences have shown me that legal education extends beyond academic rigour. It is also about leadership, service, and contributing to something larger than oneself. NUS Law challenges you to think deeply, lead with conviction, and grow together as a community, and I am proud to call it home."

Interest Groups

alt+Law

alt+Law is a student-led interest group at the intersection of technology and law. The group, with sponsorship from WongPartnership, organised Singapore's first Legal Technology Competition in 2018 and has since continued to organise the competition annually. alt+Law is also a founding member of the Asia-Pacific Legal Innovation and Technology Association (ALITA), working closely with the latter in publications such as its Legal Tech Whitepaper and Toolkit, as well as organising the SOLIA Awards at TechLaw.Fest 2021.

Environmental Law Students Association

The Environmental Law Students Association (ELSA) is a student-led interest group affiliated with the Asia-Pacific Centre for Environmental Law (APCEL). Founded in 2016, ELSA champions student-led research and advocacy that fosters environmental consciousness in all areas of the law. The group strives to become the undergraduate centre in environmental law and policy, anchored in Singapore but with a continuing interest in Southeast Asia and the broader Asia-Pacific region. Its vision is to shape a generation of environmentally conscious legal professionals with a heart for intergenerational justice.

Spaces@BTC

Spaces@BTC focuses on improving mental wellness among Law students and fostering a more compassionate environment in law school. In addition, Spaces@BTC raises general awareness of mental health issues prevalent in the legal industry.

The group plays host to a variety of programmes, each centred around promoting mental wellness. These include the Peer Support Group (PSG) programme, where student volunteers are trained by professionals to form an additional support system. The group also conducts events related to commemorating World Mental Health Day, animal-assisted learning, focus group discussions, workshops and more. Beyond that, the members produce videos and resources where guests speak candidly on issues such as the emotional toll of training contract season, depression, anxiety, stress and imposter syndrome.

The Commercial Law Careers Society

The Commercial Law Careers Society (CLCS) is dedicated to equipping future commercial lawyers with essential resources, guidance and a supportive network.

“NUS Law is the place to be for aspiring litigators. With its emphasis on sharp legal writing, incisive oral advocacy, and a competitive mooting culture, the Faculty offers an unrivalled foundation for dispute resolution practice. NUS Law pushed me to test myself early. I have since competed in five moots, two international and three local, winning two prestigious local moots. Even before entering practice, I’ve had the privilege of arguing before Honourable Justices such as Justice Judith Prakash and Justice Philip Jeyaretnam, as well as Senior and King’s Counsel. At NUS Law, excellence is not theoretical, it is experienced. By learning in the presence of legal excellence, a head start in litigation is not just possible; it is inevitable.”

Undergraduate Programmes

Whether you pursue a four-year Bachelor of Laws (LLB) degree or any of our Double or Concurrent Degree programmes, you will be assured of a quality legal education at NUS Law.

Bachelor of Laws (Honours) Degree (LLB)

Most of our LLB students enter NUS Law after completing their pre-university studies.

Successful completion of the LLB programme leads to the award of the following classes of degrees: First Class Honours, Second Class Honours (Upper Division and Lower Division), and Third Class Honours.

The LLB degree is recognised for admission to practise in Singapore*. Our graduates have also been admitted to practise in Malaysia, in several Commonwealth jurisdictions such as Australia, Canada and the United Kingdom, and in some states in the US.

*Visit the Singapore Institute of Legal Education website (www.sile.edu.sg) for the requirements to become a Qualified Person.

Curriculum

Students in the programme must complete a minimum total of 160 units in four years. Around half of the required courses in the LLB programme are compulsory common law courses that are critical for legal practice.

Year One	Year Two	Year Three/Four
All students must take the same compulsory core law courses during the first two years of their studies.		With most compulsory courses completed by Year Two, there is flexibility for you to craft your own menu of elective courses.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Criminal Law</li><li>• Introduction to Legal Theory</li><li>• Law of Contract</li><li>• Law of Torts</li><li>• Legal Analysis, Research &amp; Communication</li><li>• Singapore Law in Context</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Accounting and Finance for Lawyers</li><li>• Company Law</li><li>• Constitutional &amp; Administrative Law</li><li>• Corporate Deals or Trial Advocacy</li><li>• Equity &amp; Trusts</li><li>• Legal Systems of Asia</li><li>• Principles of Property Law</li><li>• Pro Bono Service</li></ul>	Compulsory courses: Year 3 Evidence Ethics Refresher Seminar 1 Law and Technology Quantitative Reasoning with Data Year 4 Ethics Refresher Seminar 2 Internships Electives: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Asian Legal Studies</li><li>• Civil Law (Compulsory)</li><li>• Corporate &amp; Financial Services Law</li><li>• Intellectual Property &amp; Technology Law</li><li>• International &amp; Comparative Law</li><li>• International Arbitration &amp; Dispute Resolution</li><li>• Law &amp; Society</li><li>• Maritime Law</li><li>• Private Law</li><li>• Research</li><li>• Skills</li></ul>

Visiting Professors

Every year, NUS Law hosts over two dozen visiting professors. They come from some of the top universities in the world, including Harvard, Yale, Oxford, Cambridge, the LSE, Melbourne and Hong Kong University.

Our international visiting faculty conduct classes in their areas of expertise. By bringing their unique perspectives to the legal education offered by NUS Law, they add to the cosmopolitan nature of our school.

Non-Law Course and Minor

NUS Law students also benefit from being enrolled in Singapore's only fully comprehensive university, one that offers truly diverse subjects ranging from aquatics to theatre studies, nano-science to e-finance, across our 17 faculties and schools. Students are allowed to read non-law courses up to a maximum of 40 units; and students may choose to specialise in a targeted non-Law Minor. Minors like Business Analytics, Communications & New Media, Economics, and Management perfectly complement Law and ready our graduates for a future in which law is not practised in isolation.

To declare a Minor, the student must fulfil a specified minimum number of units in the minor discipline. Currently, students can choose from over 60 minors offered by our Business School, Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences, Faculty of Science, as well as College of Design and Engineering, just to name a few.

"Beyond the lecture theatres, NUS Law comes alive through its vibrant competition culture. I have had the privilege of participating in advocacy and negotiation tournaments globally, which have significantly expanded my perspective on alternative dispute resolution. While the exposure honed my skills, the highlight was the unwavering support I received. From dedicated professors to alumni returning to coach us, the mentorship was world-class. It is this unique 'pay-it-forward' culture that has allowed me to grow outside the classroom. At NUS Law, you are challenged to be your best, but you never have to do it alone."

Elective Law Courses

One formidable strength of NUS Law is the broad and diverse range of elective courses that we offer.* Students have the option to choose courses from many clusters including Asian Legal Studies, Civil Law, Corporate & Financial Services Law, Intellectual Property & Technology Law, International & Comparative Law, International Arbitration & Dispute Resolution, Law & Society, Maritime Law, Private Law, Research, and Skills.

While the courses range from the theoretical to the practical, the overriding objective is to provide students with a liberal education through the medium that will allow them to maximise their potential.

Accordingly, many of the courses integrate relevant cross-disciplinary and policy perspectives to give students a deep and rich understanding of how the law operates within society and the factors that influence the development and application of the law.

**The elective courses offered in any given year are subject to change.*

Double Degree and Concurrent Degree Programmes

Double Degree in Business Administration (BBA (Hons)) & Law (LLB (Hons))

The double honours degree in Business Administration and Law is a five-year programme offered jointly by NUS Business School and NUS Law. The programme is established in line with NUS' aim of attracting the best students from Singapore and around the world, who are keen on having a quality education and leveraging interdisciplinary opportunities in a university ranked amongst the world's best.

Double Degree in Economics (BSocSci (Hons)) & Law (LLB (Hons))

The double honours degree in Economics and Law is a five-year programme offered jointly by the Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences and NUS Law. Economics and Law are, in some areas, complementary disciplines. Singapore is a regional centre for legal services, and much of our international legal work involves commercial, corporate and financial law. This means there is—and will continue to be—a demand for lawyers with a strong background in economics, as well as for economists trained in law. Likely future employers include law firms, large commercial banks and institutions such as the Monetary Authority of Singapore and the Competition Commission of Singapore.

Concurrent Degree in Law (LLB (Hons)) & Master in Public Policy (MPP)

The concurrent degree programme in Law and Public Policy offers Law students, particularly those interested in a career in the legal, civil or foreign service, the opportunity to complete in four-and-a-half years, two degrees that normally take six years to complete if pursued separately. The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy helps its students to understand the complex issues that challenge policymakers daily and offers a strong curriculum anchored firmly within an Asian context. NUS Law, on the other hand, offers rigorous training in public law, international law, and governance, and has a long history of placing its graduates in leading positions within the government and public service.

“I am delighted to have joined NUS full-time after 30 years at Oxford University. It is exciting to contribute more fully to teaching and to immerse myself in the laws of Asia in general, and of Singapore in particular.”

Professor Mindy Chen-Wishart
Former Professor of the Law of Contract, Oxford University
Professor and Provost's Chair, NUS Law

Special Programmes

Law-Ridge View Residential College Programme (RVRC)

The RVRC Programme is a two-year residency which takes an integrated interdisciplinary approach, designed to cultivate students' holistic development to help them prepare for, and embrace, life in the university and the work environment after graduation. The key to the unique RVRC integrated curriculum is the value of interconnectivity between knowledge building and the role of interaction and conversations within the learning community. At RVRC, co-academic activities are well integrated and interconnected to become the catalyst for strategic learning outcomes beyond the classroom.

Law-University Town College Programme (UTCP)

The UTCP is a multidisciplinary academic programme offered in Acacia College, College of Alice & Peter Tan, Residential College 4 and Tembusu College at University Town. This unique programme offers students an opportunity to read prescribed electives outside their majors and pursue other subjects of interest, while living and learning with the College community. Through this programme, students will develop strategies for clear and impactful writing skills, to chisel their inquiry and critical reasoning skills. It also grooms them to be able to clearly articulate their ideas on issues that are of global and Asian concern.

NUS College (NUSC)

The NUSC curriculum empowers students to be global-minded problem solvers who are ready to learn across boundaries and collaborate with others to make an impact on the world. To achieve this, NUSC offers students a holistic and interdisciplinary education which is delivered in small group seminar-style classes, intertwining living and learning. A wealth of diverse perspectives, local and global, are woven into the curriculum. Experiential learning programmes and dedicated moments of reflection are also integral to the curriculum, to develop cross-cultural competencies and foster personal development in students by encouraging them to be curious, critical, open-minded and adaptable.

Exchange Plus Programme

The Exchange Plus Programme allows students to graduate in four years with the NUS LLB and a master's degree from an overseas university.

LLB-LLM option. Students in our LLB-only programme, and our LLB-NUS College undergraduates, can complete three years of study here, then go overseas in their final year to undertake a Master of Laws (LLM) degree at one of our partner universities listed below. After four years of study, students graduate with an LLB (Hons) from NUS Law and an LLM from the partner university.

New York University	Boston University	Erasmus University Rotterdam
King's College London	University of Melbourne	University of Toronto

*NEW* LLB-Master in Business option. Students in our LLB-only programme can complete three years of study here, then go to IE University in Madrid to pursue either a Master in Digital Business & Innovation (MDBI), or Master in Sustainability & Business Transformation (MSBT). After four years of study, students graduate with an LLB (Hons) from NUS Law and either the MDBI or MSBT from IE University.

“ Undertaking an LLM at King’s College London was both academically rigorous and personally transformative. Specialising in international financial law offered a practice-oriented lens that deepened my understanding of the commercial dimensions of legal work, while the freedom to pursue my dissertation topic sparked a curiosity for scholarship and academia. Exploring London and travelling across Europe allowed me to reconnect with nature, and sharing those moments with friends from diverse backgrounds made the experience meaningful. ”

Lee Jia Jia
Class of 2025
King’s College London

“ The Exchange Plus Programme was the highlight of my time at NUS Law. The sheer diversity of the courses, coupled with the strength of NYU’s distinguished law faculty, made for a rich and rigorous learning experience. I was fortunate to be able to work as a Research Assistant to a leading professor on international arbitration and transnational commercial law (Professor Franco Ferrari), represent NYU Law at a moot court competition in Vienna, and undertake a judicial fellowship at the New York Supreme Court. There was also always something to do in the city that never sleeps—with concerts, sports events, and everything in between! ”

Class of 2025
NYU School of Law

“ The legal education at the University of Toronto is truly world class, and I was grateful for the opportunity to write many research papers under the guidance of leading Canadian scholars. This made my time especially enriching as I was able to dive deeply into subjects of great interest to me. The sheer diversity of my LLM cohort also enabled me to connect with and learn from other fellow lawyers who come from unique cultures. My exchange experience has truly been a core highlight of my legal education. ”

Kwa Zhi Cheng
Class of 2025
University of Toronto

Student Exchange Programme

The Student Exchange Programme offers an excellent opportunity to study the laws of a foreign legal system up close. During exchange, students can also immerse themselves in different cultures, build new connections, and enjoy the chance to travel.

Students in the LLB (Hons) programme may spend either one or both semesters of their third year in one of our partner law schools. Students in the Concurrent Degree Programme may spend one semester of their third year in one of our partner law schools, and students in the Business Administration (BBA (Hons)) & Law (LLB (Hons)) Double Degree Programme may spend one semester of their fourth year in an NUS Business School partner university. Due to the programme structure, the Student Exchange Programme is not available to students enrolled in the Economics (BSocSci (Hons)) and Law (LLB (Hons)) Double Degree Programme.

NUS Law also hosts more than 100 incoming exchange students from our partner universities each year, adding to the vibrancy of the law school.

“ It was incredible spending a semester in Hamburg, Germany. The highlight would definitely be spending time at the Christmas markets with new friends. Experiencing a different culture and meeting new people really broadens your world view, and I gained different perspectives on multiple facets of life. The places I explored will also stick with me for life, from the Alps to the winding streets of Prague’s old town. **”

“ Being on exchange in Ho Chi Minh City was a meaningful and unforgettable experience. The city is loud, fast and alive, with food on every corner and new neighbourhoods to wander so I was constantly stepping into something new, even in the middle of an ordinary class day. What made my exchange experience truly special was the people I met. My Vietnamese friends included me in their everyday routines and university life, which allowed me to soak in the local culture. I enjoyed the experience so much that I returned a year later and will definitely be back again! **”

“ My semester at the University of Sydney was both academically and personally enriching. Within the classroom, spirited discussions on novel subjects such as War Law expanded the way I approach complex issues. Over the weekends, discovering beaches and mountain trails helped me settle into a new rhythm of life. Stepping beyond my comfort zone in this way opened my eyes to perspectives far beyond what I knew, and left me with a renewed understanding of how much growth can come from experiencing the world through a global lens. **”

International Qualifications

Detailed admission requirements for those presenting international qualifications (including Singaporeans / Singapore PRs) are available at the NUS Office of Admissions website: www.nus.edu.sg/oam/apply-to-nus.

Those who possess equivalent high school qualifications, which are in the non-English medium, are required to submit proof of their proficiency in the English language. International applicants presenting the International Baccalaureate (IB) are required to meet the stated admission requirements.

Double Degree Programmes

For Double Degree programmes, applicants must meet the admission requirements of both NUS Law and NUS Business School, or College of Humanities and Sciences.

Application Procedures

The NUS Office of Admissions (OAM) administers all applications for undergraduate programmes. Different application deadlines and procedures apply to different categories and high school qualifications. For more information, please visit nus.edu.sg/oam/. Under "Apply To NUS", please select the relevant category to file your application.

Shortlisting and Selection

To be considered for the shortlist, applicants should indicate Law as the first or second choice (only if your first choice is a course that also requires an interview, e.g. Medicine) under the choice of courses. If you are interested in the Double Degree Programmes or Concurrent Degree Programme, you should opt for these in the same application form.

Written Test and Interview

Shortlisted applicants will be required to sit for a written test and may be invited to attend a formal interview, which will be held in April 2026 in Singapore. Selection shall be solely within the discretion of the University and will depend upon the number of places available in the Faculty.

The objective of the written test is to assess applicants based on three foundational competencies. These competencies are:

- (a) reading comprehension (the ability to understand complex pieces of text)
- (b) effective writing (the ability to express thoughts clearly in good written English)
- (c) analytical reasoning (the ability to process and organise information to solve a problem)

Tuition Fees

The cohort-based fee system has been implemented since Academic Year (AY) 2008/2009. Under this system, tuition fees for the new undergraduate intake cohort of students will be fixed throughout the student's entire candidature. This enables students to better plan for the financing of their undergraduate studies.

The table below reflects the applicable fees (per annum amount) for the Undergraduate Intake Cohort of AY 2025/26.

Categories	Singapore Dollars (S$)
Singapore Citizens	S$12,700 (subsidised)
Singapore Permanent Residents	S$17,750 (subsidised)
International Students (ASEAN)	S$27,650 (inclusive of GST)
International Students (non-ASEAN)	S$29,300 (inclusive of GST)

Fees payable by students not in receipt of MOE Tuition Grant was $39,200 (inclusive of GST) for AY 2025/2026.

Details of tuition fees for AY 2026/2027 will be published at the Registrar's Office website at www.nus.edu.sg/registrar/administrative-policies-procedures/undergraduate/undergraduate-fees.

"Before I joined NUS Law, everyone told me it would be impossible to juggle studies and my commitment as Vice-Captain of the National Artistic Swimming team. Halfway into Year 2, I have represented Singapore in multiple World Cups and competed in the World Championships. Two weeks after final-year exams, I earned a silver medal in the SEA Games. Juggling 30-hour training weeks with law school has been challenging, but I'm grateful for the support and flexibility I've enjoyed as an NUS Sports Scholar. The faculty has been accommodating in arranging my classes, and the individual tutors have been nothing but encouraging. Being a national athlete requires support, and I'm grateful to NUS Law for helping me reach both my academic and sporting goals."

Scholarships, Bursaries, Grants and Prizes

Scholarships, Bursaries & Grants

NUS offers a variety of scholarships in recognition of outstanding academic achievements, leadership qualities and special talents. We are also committed to a need-blind merit-based admission policy that ensures no deserving student is denied a university education because of financial difficulty.

Faculty Awards

The Faculty also has a number of medals and prizes that are awarded to students who have achieved outstanding academic performance. Prizes for the top students in the respective LLB, LLM and JD cohorts and numerous subject prizes are awarded after the Semester Two examinations.

Careers and Internships

Centre for Future-ready Graduates

NUS Law graduates choose from a wide variety of career paths. Many take positions in leading firms in Singapore and around the world; others go on to occupy senior positions in government. Still others devote themselves to public service, or pursue higher degrees and join the world of academia.

The Centre for Future-ready Graduates (CFG) at NUS Law is set up to equip students with future-ready skills to transition smoothly to their careers of choice after graduation.

CFG@Law organises a number of events throughout the academic year, including 'Career Paths in Law' Panel Discussion for freshmen, the Law Careers Fair, as well as fortnightly Lunchtime Careers Talks and industry-specific Panel Discussions. CFG also manages NUS TalentConnect—an online platform for Law students, alumni and employers to share and access internships, fellowships, practice training contracts and other permanent job opportunities.

CFG@Law fosters networking with alumni and co-ordinates the Law Alumni Mentor Programme (LAMP). It also promotes close contact with industry partners, by inviting them for various initiatives.

Internships

NUS Law encourages students to acquaint themselves with legal work through vacation internships with local and foreign law firms, companies, institutions, the Legal Service and other government authorities. Almost all our current students undertake an internship during their time at NUS Law, and there is no lack of internship opportunities available.

Students who matriculate in the academic year 2025/2026 or later will be required to complete a minimum 2-week long legal internship. This compulsory requirement ensures that all new students will gain practical legal experience, while allowing NUS Law to continue to offer flexibility for students to use their vacation time for other pursuits, such as voluntary work or exploring broader interests outside of the required internship.

The following is a list of some of our vacation internship partners:

“NUS Law provides its students with the opportunity to read an impressive range of law subjects that include cutting-edge elective courses which embrace the digital transformation of the global economy. It is heartening to see the powerhouse Faculty continually evolve in tandem with the transformative changes that impact organisations and businesses. Courses which have been curated with lecturers who are either experienced academics or subject matter expert practising lawyers allow students to gain insights and knowledge from individuals who are best in class.”

"Our undergraduate days are arguably one of the best times of our lives, and the old adage about all work and no play rings true here. I hope our undergraduates make the best use of their time at NUS Law: live on campus for at least one semester and enjoy prata suppers, join a student club and do something meaningful, go on student exchange and immerse themselves in a completely new culture, and importantly, make friends for life. With hundreds of students from all Faculties living in the apartment towers directly above our new campus, they'll find the perfect environment to explore, connect and thrive."

Vice-Dean (Student Affairs)
Senior Lecturer

Our Alumni

The quality of a law school is reflected in its students. At NUS Law, we like to think that we don't just give our students a law degree, we also inculcate in them a sense of purpose and a calling. Our alumni occupy the ranks of the judiciary, government, academia, private practice, business, the arts and media communities, as well as almost every niche of professional life in Singapore. Many of our alumni have also achieved prominence in North America, Europe, Australia and Asia.
